

Some of the music on David Byrne's album 'The Forest' was originally used in a theatre piece with the same name, directed by Robert Wilson. 'The Forest' premiered at the Theater der Freien Volksbuhne, Berlin in 1988. ♦The US-long box package contains a warning sign from the record company: 'Warners wants you to know that this album contains orchestral music'. Which is a pretty accurate description.

Tracks:

- Ur
- Kish
- Dura
- Europus
- Samara
- Nineveh
- Ava
- Machu

The only single release from the album is titled 'Forestry' and contains a couple of dance mixes of original 'Forest'-

- Ava (Nu Wage Remix)
- Nineveh (Industrial Mix)
- Ava (Less Space Dance Mix Edit)
- Ava (Space Dance mix)
- Machu Picchu (Album Version)